PHOTOGRAPHY THROUGH THE SEASONS

- A Digital Presentation by Daniel Trim

Thursday, 28 October 2021 at 7:30 for 8pm

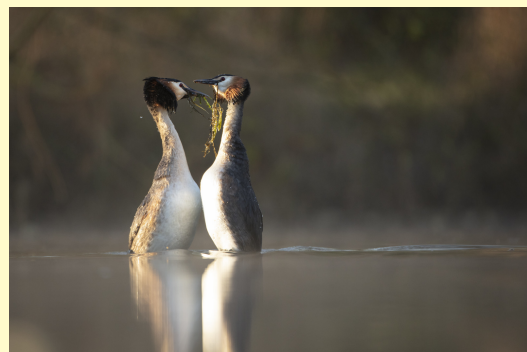

I've always loved the natural world, from finding caterpillars in my back garden to attending field study courses around the UK. It was during these field study courses that I first picked up a camera, an Olympus OM10!

Looking back I didn't take any good photographs with that camera but it certainly provided the catalysis for what is now an obsession. I took an unintentional 'sabbatical' from photography but throughout my first summer back home from University I re-found my passion for photography.

I've been filling up memory cards as well as increasing my knowledge of both photographic technicalities and wildlife ever since.

I also love to travel and more often than not I take my camera with me. It was during a year out from work that I started trying to make something more of my holiday snaps.
